Mediator Experience

Having accumulated experience in all matters that come before the federal courts, have mediated all types of commercial disputes, including employment, intellectual property, shareholder, successor liability, government agency, contract, environmental, aviation and other matters.

Taught courses on advocacy, adjudication and ADR throughout the United States. Has helped train lawyers and judges in mediation techniques in Europe. Has also trained Department of Justice attorneys in mediation at the National Advocacy Center in Columbia, South Carolina and at the Attorney General’s Advocacy Institute.

Mediator Style & Process Preferences

I believe in a “roll up the sleeves”, hands on aggressive approach to resolving complex cases and prefer the active participation of reasonable counsel who are serious about the mediation process. To that end, I prepare with the parties in advance to develop their underlying needs and interests and to acquire a deeper understanding of areas of impasse. I also recommend multiple sessions whenever appropriate and am willing to work with parties for as long as it takes to reach an agreement.
